At First.

I should fall asleep one day, All over-worn, and should my spirit from the clay bo dreaming out the Heavenward way, Or thence be softly borne.

I pray you angels do not first
Assail mine ear
With that blest anthem oft rehearsed;
"Behold the bonds of death are burst";
Lest I should faint with fear.

But let some happy bird at hand The silence break; So shall I dimly understand That dawn has touched a blossoming

And sigh myself awake.

Prom the deep rest emerging so, To lift the head.

And see the bath-flower's bell of snow, The plak arbutus, and the low Spring beauty streaked with red.

Will all suffice; no otherwhere

Impelled to roam,
Till some blithe wanderer, passing fair,
Will smiling pause of me aware—
And murmur: "Welcome Home!"

So sweetly greeted I shall rise So sweetly greeted 1 shall reserve to kiss her check.
Then lightly soar in levely guise, as one familiar with the skies.
Who finds and need not seek.

THE RECONCILEMENT.

By JOHN SHEFFIELD, DUKE OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE.

John Sheffield, Duke of Buckingham, was born in 1648, and died in 1721. He served in the army and navy, and was loof Chamberlain to James II. At the death of Anne lost all power. He wrote two tragedies.

OME, let us now resolve at last To live and love in quiet; We'll tie the knot so very fast That Time shall ne'er untie it.

> The truest joys they seldom prove Who free from quarrels live; 'Tis the most tender part of love Each other to forgive.

When least I seemed concerned, I took No pleasure nor no rest; And when I feigned an angry look, Alas! I loved you best.

Own but the same to me-you'll find How blest will be our fate. Oh! to be happy—to be kind— Sure never is too late.

3:30 Sunday afternoon in the Sure room of the Grace Street Presbyterian Church. An attractive programme was evidently expected, for the room was filled before the appointed time, and extra chairs were brought in for any late comers. After the Scripture reading, hymn and responsive reading, led by Miss Sands, Miss Josephine Allen, who has just been elected scretary of all the girls' missionary work, under the auspices of the Synodical Union, addressed the children. As she stood before the little ones, and the older ones, too, for they composed the background of the audience, and spoke of what heroes on the mission field have done for Christ, how they "followed in His train," and then how the very smallest present, too, might "follow in His train," and then how the very smallest present, too, might "follow in His train," and then how the very smallest present, they have been stirred by her enthusiasm.

After the talk come "the appeals from the foreign land"—a door was opened and six of the girls in costumes came in and grouped themselves hefore the audience. As she stood before the fittle ones, and the older ones, too, for they composed the background of the audience, and spoke of what heroes on the mission field have done for Christ, how they "followed in His train," and then how the very smallest present, too, might "follow in His train," might do her own part, even the children must have been stirred by her enthusiasm. After the talk come "the appeals from the foreign land"—a door was opened and six of the girls in costumes came in and grouped themselves before the audience. China, Japan, Mexico, Corea, Bruzil and Cuba were all there, and all brought their pleas and asked help—all wanted Christ, all wanted the gospel. After their appeals and a hymn and recitation by Miss Grace Glimer, the leader, Alies and the clear, brief answers that came from first one and then another as she stated the exact truth, brought the questions home to the hearers. Miss Walters recited just at this point "Her Am I. O Lord, Send Me," and then the children were introduced to a "real live wise fasting the exact truth, brought the questions home to the hearers. Miss Walters recited just at this point "Her Am I. O Lord, Send Me," and then the children were introduced to a "real live missionary," Mrs. Woods, of China, who gave a most interesting talk of her work among the children there and of the sad lives of the little Chinese girls, After her address was sung the old hymn, "Far, Far Away in Heathen Darkness Dwelling," and then the plates were pagesed by the girls for the children's contributions.

An interesting "missionary dialogue," reasoning for and nagainst missions, by Misses Campbell and Wilson, was last

GREAT TOBACCO SALE

Over Half Million Pounds Sold at South Boston in One Day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SOUTH EOSTON, VA., November 2.—
Not since South Boston has been a tobacco market has there been so much tobacco sold here as was on last Tuesday. Over half a million pounds were fold a prices which were in the main satisfactor prices which were in the main satisfactory to the farmers. The average price was a little over eight cents a pound. Since the commencement of the new tobacco year, September 1st, more tobacco has been sold than in any previous year within the memory of the oldest people.

The people of this section were never in a more prosperous condition. The corn crop was a good one, the bulk of which has already been housed. Hogs are quite numerous, and with plenty of corn to make them of heavy weight, "pork and hominy" will be plentiful in Halifax. The seven banks in the county all report deposits as large, which is the best indicator of the condition of the people.

WORRY AT CORNELL.

Ithacans Are Apprehensive of the Swathmore Game.

Swathmore Game.

ITHACA, N. Y., November 2.—The Cornell 'varsity got another hard mid-week scrimmage yesterday. First the regulars were lined up against the freshmen and then against the sophomores. The 'varsity scored three touchdowns in all and it was only occasionally that the crack under-class elevens could make any material gains. The 'varsity line-up was as follows: Roadhouse, left end; Dann left tackle; Thompson, left guard; Hodge, centre; Furnan, right guard; Costello, right tackle; Van Orman, right end; Poliak, quarter back; Walder, left half back; Newman, right half back; Wolhelm, full back.

Newman, right half back; Wolhelm, full back.

This eleven is now first choice for each position, with the exceptions that Cook, who should be left tackle position, and lialladay, who is the regular full back.

Saturday's game with the strong Swarthmore team coming just a week before the contest with Princeton, is now causing some worry in the Cornell camp. So one doubts but that a victory will be won handly, but Trainer Monkley is fearful that some of his men will be laid up. Trainer Monkley said to-day; "It is a much harder job to keep a foot-ball team in condition than it is a champion track team."

to Have a "House-Warming"

The congregation of the Second Bapt'st Church will hold a reception in their new and elegant edifice, corner of Adams and Franklin Streets, tonight. They propose to make it a time of Christian rejoicing and good fellowship. The committees in charge cordially invite all of the friends of the church whether members of the church and Sunday school or not. There is perhaps no set programme, although there will be music, refreshments and other enjoyable features. It is certain there will be no speech-making, "for," says one of the officers of the church, "this is to be strictly a Christian social time; a time for hand-shaking and getting acquainted with one another. We want all of our friends to be with us."

Ready-to-Wear Millinery

At Reduced Prices.

N THE GREAT RUSH. OF BUSINESS incident to this season of the year it is but natural that many hats should be injured, a quill bent or twisted, some ribbon rumpled or soiled, a buckle dented and the like; though the injury be very slight (such as might naturally occur the first time the hat is worn) not enough to impair its style, appearance or service ability, yet we do not regard them perfect commercially speaking, and therefore prefer to sustain a quick loss and hurry them out at reduced prices, while the season is at its height and when they will serve you best.

Some of the hats are perfect and the only reason for its price being reduced is because there happens to be but one or two of its kind left.

But the above is merely cited as an instance of the opportunities for nomy that now prevail among the Ready-to-Wear Styles; equally attractive values are offered at $2.48, $2.98, $3.48

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

The Spooky Pumpkins and Fortune Letters Much in Evidence. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WAVERLY, VA., November 2 .- The fact that the social realm of Waverly has recently been imbued with autumn activity was much in evidence at the very enjoyable "Hallowe'en party," given by Mrs. James T. Hancock, in honor of her sister, Miss Lucy A. Chappell, Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 11:30. The word "Hailowe'en" at one time bore more significance of mirthfulness and joy to the average young heart of the Old Dominion than it does at this time. However, to have seen the young folks-foretelling their future destiny as to matrimony and riches by the usual divers methods would remind one of the festivities induiged in by the lads and lassies of the Highlands of Scotland on a similar according land on a similar occasion.

The reception halls were elaborately decorated, from a portion of which could be seen the "smiling countenance" of a large pumpkin. The pumpkin was carved and sculptured in the usual Hallowe'en style, and a lighted candle placed therein. "Spooky Pumpkin" were a grin only to be excelled by one of Teddy's.

Among the fortune-tellers could be found Misses Ethel Norris, Annie Martin, Era Parker, Soulle Burt, Ruth Spratley, Mesdames Lucy Chappell and Virgle Robinson, Professor and Mrs. D. J.
